The environmental representative for the Olin Corporation, Paul Duff, called me on April 10, 1984 and mentioned that he could not find a replacement for him while he was on vacation. He stated that he would like to observe the sampling and to split samples with us. Because he cannot be there to do this or find a suitable representative, he would like the site inspection to be rescheduled to the week of May 14, 1984. I agreed and have rescheduled the site inspection for that week.
